GLENDALE IN CARAVAN TO CONVENTION

Delegation Gets Early Start for Sacramento; Stops at Kern Co. Seat

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff
En Route to Sacramento

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 9.—Southern California's realty caravan pulled into this city at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon without a mishap to the 105 cars and 300 delegates, who were escorted to the beautiful Rockdale country club where they are being royally entertained. Glendale was well to the front of the big procession. Richard D. Davis is grand marshal of the caravan as it proceeds to the state capital.

Glendale's contingent to the nineteenth annual convention of the California Real Estate association, two score strong in a dozen motor cars, swung out of the city shortly after 6 o'clock this morning.

The rendezvous was the office of the Glendale Realty company, 131½ South Brand boulevard, where Cameron D. Thom, president of the local realty board, holds forth. It was 5:45 when we began to assemble in the dull gray dawn, as a curtain of high fog withdrew to reveal the glorious sunshine over the green Verdugo hills.

Brushes Up Speech
Naturally enough, W. L. Twining was giving everyone instructions, while Mr. Thom was busily scouting for Peter Hanson. It was easy to suspect the "home town orator" was brushing up his 5-minute speech. And so we gathered, the medley of cars indicative of the prosperity of the city which the realtors represent.

With a whoop we got off—on the road, we mean—and rounded all corners safely to Michigan avenue, La Crescenta, where we fell into line with the Pasadena contingent, with its score of cars and dozens more boosters. After a quick run through Tulunga, where the early risers were shocked by Glendale's audacious singing, the party arrived at San Fernando without mishap.

Long Climb Over Hills
At this point Alhambra's delegation took second place in the parade, with Los Angeles, Long Beach and a dozen other cities also represented in the long caravan which began its climb over the ridge route into Bakersfield.

Poster Curry was out to meet the "gang" at Lebec lodge, where a 15-minute stop gave respite to the kinked arms of the drivers, and incidentally allowed 90 per cent (Continued on page 4)

Plumm and Clayton were driving on Gladys street when the holdup men, drew up beside them, forcing their car to the curb. One of the bandits leaped out and pointing his revolver at the men forced them to hand over the money bag.

IMPEACHMENT OF WALTON PLANNED

Oklahoma Legislature Will Assemble Thursday at Governor's Call

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 9.—Both houses of the Oklahoma legislature were organized today to start impeachment proceedings against Governor J. C. Walton when the assembly meets here next Thursday at the governor's call.

A new speaker of the house, to succeed Murray Gibbons, speaker of the ninth regular session, will be the principal change in the personnel of the lower chamber, members say, although it is freely predicted impeachments will be instituted against some of the representatives who are alleged to have been active in the "pardon and parole business." Gibbons has announced he will not ask to sit in the speaker's chair.

The injunction suit filed by Governor Walton to restrain certification of last Tuesday's election, which vote would permit the legislature to assemble without the call of the governor, was continued this morning by Judge Chambers until tomorrow.

The trial of N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma Ku Klux Klan, who was named in evidence presented at the military court of inquiry for having participated in floggings here, also was continued for the reason that County Attorney J. K. Wright is at work on the murder hearings.

STOKES' SPY TESTIFIES IN SUIT

Millionaire's Wife Visitor to Man's Apartment, Says Maid's Testimony

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The throngs of sensation-seekers that crowded Justice Mahoney's court room today in anticipation of hearing "spy testimony" in the divorce suit of W. E. D. Stokes, millionaire clubman, against his wife, Helen Elwood Stokes, had their expectations justified very shortly after the court opened. Nell Rose Miller, a negress, formerly employed by Edgar Wallace, named as co-respondent in the case, testified that she had seen the pretty Mrs. Stokes "six times in Wallace's apartment."

Each time she wore only a silk undergarment—a very thin one, too," she added.

Star Verbal War
The woman's testimony started an immediate verbal battle between the attorneys.

Attorney Undermyer attacked the witness' credibility as soon as he began his cross-examination. "You had been employed in the apartment at the time," he asked. "Yes," replied the witness.

Undermyer had the witness badly confused throughout her testimony. At one point where she had contradicted herself he exclaimed: "Your honor, I ask that this woman be committed for perjury."

Dodged Grand Jury
Undermyer brought out the fact that the woman had "run away" from Chicago to avoid being brought before the grand jury which indicated Stokes and his lawyer for conspiracy to defame his wife's character.

Upon his demand the Miller woman produced a letter written on the stationery of Stokes' attorneys.

"How much did you get in Chicago?" asked Undermyer. "I got a check for $100 before leaving Chicago," said the woman. Undermyer spent two hours examining (Continued on page 4)

ADJOURNMENT OF LABOR MEET NEAR

Delegates Winding Up Last Details of Business at Convention

By J. S. SHEEHY
For International News Service
PORTLAND, Oct. 9.—Quick dispatch of remaining business with adjournment likely either late Thursday or early Friday was the hope expressed by delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention here today.

With the completion today of the report of the committee on resolutions it was expected that remaining committee reports would bring forth little debate or argument on the floor of the convention. Even resolutions bearing on recognition of soviet Russia and third party organization were not expected to delay proceedings long today in view of the complete victory yesterday of the conservatives in expelling William F. Dunne, an admitted communist of Butte, Mont.

Election of a fraternal delegate to the British trades union congress may bring about a lively contest before adjournment.

Lloyd George Plays Golf at Montreal

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—Gratified by the cordial manner in which his first visit was received in Montreal, former Premier David Lloyd George of England today gave himself completely up to rest and recreation. Warm, bright weather sent the famous statesman early to the golf links, where he enjoyed a round of his favorite game. Lloyd George took lunch at the golf club, returning to his hotel in time to pack for his journey to Ottawa, the dominion capital. No official functions are arranged for the Ottawa trip except dinner at Government house. After dinner the Lloyd George special will leave Ottawa for Toronto.

REVISION OF TARIFF IS LIKELY

Progressive Republicans and Democrats Bent on Downward Slash

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—An alliance of Democrats and Progressive Republicans may result in a complete revision of the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill by the next congress in favor of the American farmer, it was learned today.

Charging the present "high tariff wall" was primarily responsible for current farm depression, Democratic leaders were reported to be lining up with Republicans in the so-called "La Follette group" to force a resumption of the tariff war as soon as Congress reconvenes. The movement gained headway when President Coolidge himself ordered the United States tariff commission to launch an investigation of rates on farm products to determine whether farmers were being discriminated against by the existing law.

Fletcher Seizes Law
The Democratic viewpoint was revealed today by Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, Democrat, of Florida, a leader of opposition to enactment of the present law. Fletcher charged the McCumber act had destroyed foreign markets for the American farmer, while forcing him to pay "war peace prices" for everything he purchased in home markets.

"The trouble with agriculture is caused primarily by the high tariff wall," said Fletcher. "The farmer asks only for fair and just treatment, but he is not accorded it under the present tariff law. The deflation policy persisted in by those in command of credits and finance had caused a shrinkage in value of farm property which amounted to $9,000,000,000 last year."

More He Grows, Less He Makes
"On top of this, the purchasing (Continued on page 4)

SMOOT PLAN FOR BONUS OPPOSED

The sales tax, suggested by Senator Smoot, Republican of Utah, who will be chairman of the powerful finance committee, would hit the average consumer with higher costs upon almost all classes of purchases and transactions and, in the view of the treasury, would practically double the present tax burden.

For this reason, revenue experts hold a sales tax to be impracticable and will insist that revenue for a bonus must be secured from some other taxing source. Furthermore, treasury officials predict there is not sufficient strength either in the senate or the house to enact sales tax legislation.

British May Recall Lloyd George to Power

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Another newspaper attack was directed against Premier Stanley Baldwin today strengthening belief held in some quarters that a press campaign will be opened in favor of returning David Lloyd George to Downing street.

Commenting London newspapers indicated the widest dissatisfaction over the secrecy which attended yesterday's session of the imperial conference when Britain's foreign policy was discussed. Lord Beaverbrook's papers attacked the secrecy of the conference, also the manner in which Premier Baldwin settled the Anglo-American debt problem.

RECORD REALTY DEAL TAKES LAST VACANT LOT ON SOUTH BRAND NEAR BROADWAY

Breaking all records for Brand boulevard lease deals, the vacant lot between Broadway and Harvard streets today was signed up by the Glendale Music Company for a consideration of more than a quarter million dollars. The property is located at 118 South Brand boulevard and is now occupied by Downing & Cox's nursery. The 99-year lease was signed by Frank J. and Vincent Salmacia, proprietors of the music company, with H. C. Baker, the owner, a San Francisco man.

The Glendale Music Company is located at 109 North Brand boulevard in a building which recently was leased by Charles F. Hahn for a 99-year period, it is stated. In view of the increasing rental at the end of their present term, the Salmacia brothers began looking for a site on which to permanently establish their business.

Cursory examination of the field revealed numerous two story buildings, desirable corners, etc., but further investigation showed these to be held by speculators on long term leases. It was necessary to obtain the only available vacant property from a non-resident.

Plans are now being made to improve the property, which has a frontage of 25 feet on the east side of Brand boulevard and a depth of 110 feet. The Salmacias contemplate a two story building.

U. S. MAY SECURE ZEPPELIN PLANT INDORSES SEWER

Decision Rests on Success of ZR-3's Atlantic Trip When Completed

By MINOTT SAUNDERS
For International News Service
FREDERICKSHAVEN, AM - BODENSEE, Oct. 9.—The Zeppelin Airship company, which is building the dirigible ZR-3 for the United States navy, may transfer its gigantic plant from Germany to the United States if the ZR-3 proves a success and crosses the Atlantic without mishap, it was learned here today at the seat of the works.

Zeppelin officials admitted they would like to transfer their works to the United States. Already a company is being organized to finance such a project, contingent upon the success of the ZR-3.

Unfortunately obstacles have delayed construction and it will be next spring before the ZR-3 is ready for trials. It is hoped that she may be ready to start for Lakehurst, N. J., about June. If the ship fails the company will be handicapped for years because of lack of funds and materials in Germany.

The ZR-3 is the 126th airship the Zeppelin company has produced, and officials boast they never lost one from constructional defects.

Coast Ships Send Out S. O. S. Calls
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—Bound to San Francisco from Tacoma with sixty passengers and a crew of fifty, the Admiral line passenger steamer Admiral Sebree was reported by wireless early today to be drifting helplessly 145 miles north of San Francisco.

She lost her propeller during the night, but her captain reported she was in no immediate danger. Tugs are speeding to her assistance and the Dorothy Alexander, a fast passenger liner, is hastening to the scene of her distress.

The steamer Kennecott also sent out an S. O. S. call early today, reporting that she had gone on the rocks at Dixon's entrance off Vancouver island. The Kennecott failed to answer further radio signals, giving rise to fears that she had been hard hit in the crash.

The weather was reported freshening in the vicinity of the Admiral Sebree early today with moderate seas running. Captain Hansen advised his officers here that he was preparing to use makeshift sails in order to keep his vessel off shore. It was not believed that disaster will befall her unless she is driven shoreward by the northwesterly winds prevailing. The Sebree is of 1866 tons, net, and had recently been in the Seattle-Sitka service.

The Kennecott is a motorship of the United States shipping board operated by the Williams Steamship company. She has (Continued on page 4)

'BURGLAR' SCARE IS FALSE ALARM

It might have been the proverbial "night before Christmas" with not even a mouse stirring, so quiet was everything yesterday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Matthews, 325 South Fisher street. The Matthews family had retired early and were wrapped in peaceful slumber, when suddenly strains of music "roused Mr. Matthews. "A musical burglar!" was his first thought. You know you never can tell what may happen these days, what with Charlie Chaplin writing tragedies and a president in the White House who doesn't like to talk, so why not a sensitive, soulful burglar with a liking for music? So reasoned Mr. Matthews and lightly garbed, went forth to do battle with the intruder.

But the Glendale police were not called to arrest a thiefing Paderewski. The mysterious musician proved to be a friend who had called upon the Matthews and, finding the place so quiet, had proceeded to make himself at home.

CIVIL STRIFE LOOMS IN CHINA

Outbreak Feared as Tsao-Kun, Newly Elected Ruler, Tells Policies

By EDNA LEE BOOKER
For International News Service

SHANGHAI, China, Oct. 9.—Although war clouds are threatening China, Shanghai military leaders do not look for an immediate outbreak of civil war. The crisis is expected to arise soon after Tsao-Kun, Chihli military overlord, recently elected president in Peking, outlines his policies.

Tomorrow has been set aside as a "national humiliation day" by sections opposed to Tsao-Kun, when mass meetings of protest at his alleged illegal election will be held. Flags will be flown at half mast here. Small local disturbances are feared.

Shanghai is the only city in Kiang-Su province that will not support Tsao-Kun, leaders here sympathizing with the Chekiang war-lord, Luyung Hsiang.

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING
But Not So Bad If You Know
How To Reach The Cause
Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys and calls for prompt treatment. The best recommended remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Profit by this nearby resident's experience:
W. S. Peterson, rancher, Box
47, Clearwater, Cal., says: "I had a lot of kidney trouble and suffered with my back. When I stooped I could hardly straighten.
I had sharp catches through my kidneys and could hardly turn in bed. The action of my kidneys was irregular. I tried different remedies with no benefit. Finally I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They were just what I needed and soon fixed me up in good shape. My back is well and strong and my kidneys are in good shape."
Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—

same that Mr. Peterson had. Fos-

LEGION VISIONING ATHLETIC NEEDS

Committee Is Considering
Plans for Baseball Park,
Recreation Center

Plans for the promotion of either a ball park or an athletic and civic recreation center were discussed yesterday noon in Jensen's Egyptian Village by a committee from the local post of the American Legion.

W. T. Jefferson of Pasadena, who is the owner of property on San Fernando road between Central avenue and Los Feliz road, has offered to sell it to Glendale Post No. 127, on moderate terms, and to finance the erection of a suitable auditorium and civic center upon it—provided that it shall be made a credit to Glendale.

The luncheon also was attended by Frank Kerwin and Grant Leischner, both of Los Angeles, and William Aiten of Van Nuys, all of whom are interested in the establishment of a suitable baseball park in Glendale.

This would not only serve as the headquarters for a local professional baseball team, but would be made the training quarters for an eastern big league baseball team. This proposition is regarded favorably, not only from an athletic standpoint, but also from a publicity standpoint.

The possibility of combining the two projects was discussed briefly. This is not likely, however, as Mr. Jefferson's property is not large enough to accommodate a ball park.

The establishment of a stadium to be used exclusively for boxing shows is not looked upon with favor by Mr. Jefferson. He insists that the building shall contain suitable accommodations for the presentation of theatrical attractions, dances and other entertainments.

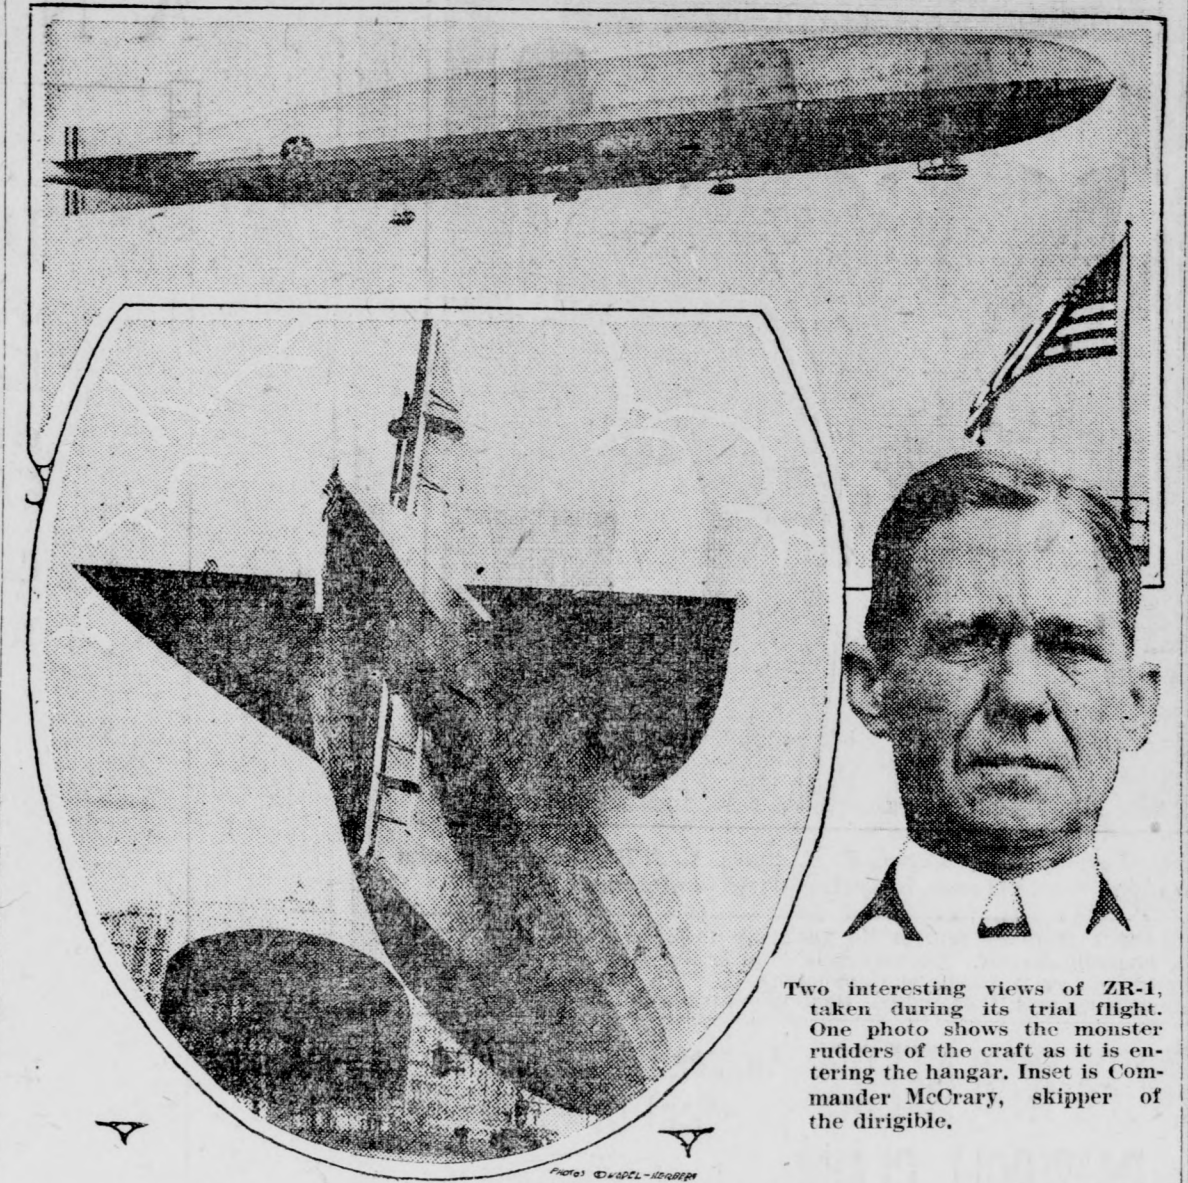

Needs Five Acres
Financial details in connection with the establishment of a baseball park can be worked out, according to Mr. Kerwin, provided a suitable location can be obtained. He estimates that the parking space and grandstand to seat between 3500 and 5000 spectators will require about five acres.

Chalmers D. Day, commander of the local post of the American Legion, acted as chairman of the meeting. Jesse E. Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Lester Marston, Charles E. Cutler, George L. Kaeding, James F. Wittmeyer, Dr. William C. Mabry and W. H. Reeves.

In order to go further into details a committee was appointed consisting of Mr. Kaeding, Dr. Mabry and Captain Wittmeyer. They will confer with City Manager Reeves and Mr. Smith as representative of the Chamber of Commerce.

PLAN TO INVADE FORBIDDING REGIONS OF ARCTIC

'Made In America' Dirigible To Make Most Dangerous Journey

Two interesting views of ZR-1, taken during its trial flight. One photo shows the monster rudders of the craft as it is entering the hangar. Inset is Commander McCrary, skipper of the dirigible.

Military and scientific leaders see untold possibilities in the successful launching and flight of the ZR-1, first "made in America" dirigible. This giant Zeppelin, the first to be constructed in the U. S., has a cruising radius of 5,000 miles. A trip in comparative ease and comfort to the uncharted and unexplored arctic regions is seen as one of the possible uses for the craft. Such a trip would give the government and scientists new authentic data on the now forbidding region. The huge craft was built at Lakehurst, N. J., and is housed between trips in the largest hangar in the world.

TUJUNGA BENEFIT TO AID AILING VETERAN

Gallant Soldier, Recovering From Operation, Will Be Freed From Worry

Next Saturday evening, October 13, a banquet will be given at the Fine Arts Guild studio on Michigan avenue, Tujunga, for the benefit of Captain James Robbins, World War veteran, who is recovering from an operation at the Sawtelle hospital, and his little family.

Mrs. Laura Lee Sweet is promoting the affair. There will be a program of entertainment and dancing. Among other items on the menu will be barbecued meat and chicken.

There will be several tables for reservations. One table will be held for reservations by friends of the captain in Glendale and members of the Art Association there.

Particulars may be obtained and reservations made by calling Mrs. Sweet, Sunland 145, or Mrs. Robbins, 14-J-1.

Result of Wounds
Captain Robbins was operated on some weeks ago for a complication of trouble growing out of wounds received in the war. He has rallied from the effects of the operation and is steadily improving. The doctors say he will get his health back if he can have complete rest and freedom from worry. It is to alleviate the financial worry attendant upon protracted illness that friends of the captain are promoting this entertainment. It will not be in any sense a donation, as arrangements have been made to furnish an evening of entertainment for the patrons that would be well worth the sum asked.

Captain Robbins is secretary of the Aeacis club of the Masonic lodge. When the war broke out he was in Austria as manager of a commercial house. He escaped with difficulty into Italy and enlisted in the English army. In a short time he won a commission as lieutenant and went to the front in France in 1915, occupying a position with his company on the Somme.

Military Attache
During the campaign Captain Robbins was wounded so many times that he was pronounced incurable. But he rallied and recovered to a certain extent and was later sent by the British government to Washington as a military attache, automatically gaining the rank of captain.

While in Washington he was advised by doctors to go to California to recuperate further. So he and his French bride, whom he had married while in France, came to Tujunga and now that the operation is over the prospects are good for a return of health.

In the meantime friends want to eliminate as much as possible all worry for him and Mrs. Robbins and James, Jr., who arrived not so many months ago and keeps a lookout at their little home for his "dad," who is expected home from the hospital as soon as his condition will permit.

VALLEY NEWS VALLEY BASEBALL LEAGUE PLANNED

Lankershim Manager Says
8-Team Organization
Will Be Launched

Plans are under way to form a valley baseball league again this year, according to Earl Garren, manager of the Lankershim Peaches. At a meeting of the Southern California in Los Angeles last week Mr. Garren made application for the Peaches to enter into winter semi-professional playing.

Mr. Garren said that there will probably be eight teams in the valley this season and that the contest will be a hot one. It is rumored that the Seattle team may train in Lankershim.

Trolley Wire Breaks
The lives of many passengers were endangered when a trolley wire on the Van Nuys line at Ethel street and Sherman way broke last Thursday afternoon and wrapped itself about two out-bound cars from Los Angeles.

The wires, sending out sparks wherever metal contacts were made and shattering the window panes, rendered many of the women passengers hysterical but no one was injured.

William Jennings Bryan spoke on "Co-operation" at the Van Nuys and Lankershim Kiwanis clubs last week. Many members from other valley clubs attended the two meetings. A huge basket of peaches was presented the orator at Lankershim.

The Van Nuys Gun club held its first meeting of the season at the club grounds last Sunday. Many trap shooters from all over the valley attended. Every shooter was given a chance to exhibit his skill in a number of events.

Will Enlarge Boulevard
Members of those communities in the valley traversed by Leedale street met last Friday evening in the rooms of the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce to discuss ways and means of connecting the western extremity of the valley with downtown Los Angeles and of dedicating the enlarged thoroughfare as a memorial boulevard. Communities represented at the conference were Owensmouth, Reseda, Van Nuys, Lankershim and Burbank.

The Van Nuys city clerk has submitted a recommendation to the board of freeholders that a charter election be held next August.

More than 30,000,000 tons of pulverized fuel are being burned each year in plants of this country.

PIONEER RECALLS OLD PLAINS DAYS

Noted Horseman on Thrilling Experiences In Union
Pacific Magazine

Colonel George W. Stokes, a "hossman" of the western plains sixty years ago, lived through the rise, height and passing of stage-coach travel and wagon freighting. His graphic description of those pioneer days appears in the October issue of The Union Pacific Magazine.

Track maintainers on British railways excel as landscape gardeners, according to D. S. Lowrie in his article in the October number of The Union Pacific Magazine, under the title, "Boise, Belfast, Balmoral and Back." All along the right of way are neatly trimmed hedges of hawthorn and laurel; the embankments a carpet of bluegrass, while the deep cuts are walled with solid masonry. Through trains travel very fast and make few stops. An average speed of fifty miles an hour is common. Mr. Lowrie draws numerous interesting comparisons between British and American railway service.

U. P. Safety Rally
With the exception of the spectacular Wilson demonstration in 1906, it is said Omaha never witnessed the equal of the Union Pacific Safety Rally, September 15. Close to 10,000 employees marched in the parade. Officials walked shoulder to shoulder with them. The Omaha Chamber of Commerce, Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, and a regiment of the 17th U. S. Infantry participated, and the city declared a holiday. Eight employees' bands, representing six divisions, and a monster barbecue were outstanding features. The Union Pacific Magazine for October describes the rally in story and picture.

The completion of a thirty-three-mile extension of the Union Pacific System from Lufkin to Cedar City, Utah, and commemoration of the visit of President and Mrs. Harding on June 27 were celebrated at Cedar City September 12. A Harding Golden Rail was laid with fitting ceremony. Representative railway men and statesmen of the West were present. Senator Reed Smoot was the principal speaker. The current issue of The Union Pacific Magazine chronicles the events of the day and carries a page of original pictures portraying the main features of the celebration.

In putting 44,285 cars in safe and sanitary condition to receive merchandise, the freight department of the Union Pacific System at Salt Lake City extracted 29,743 pounds of nails during 1922, averaging one and one-half pounds of nails for every car. This precaution proves beneficial in averting damage to shipments and in the sale of salvaged nails. These and other interesting sidelights on modern methods of handling freight are found in the current issue of The Union Pacific Magazine in an article by John C. Green, under the caption, "Is the Freight Handler Coming Into His Own?"

The Glendale Evening News classified ads set a new record for the year ending with September, a record that proves beyond all question that in these columns people find the best results. During the twelve months The Glendale Evening News published

1,330,742

And, incidentally, The Glendale Evening News carried 43 per cent more classified advertising during September than any other local publication.

These record-breaking figures prove—and thoroughly so—that The Glendale Evening News has a complete distribution in Glendale and vicinity. They prove, too, that these columns do a double service—they serve both buyer and seller.

For results, phone Glendale 132, and ask for Classified Ad Department.

GLENDALE EVENING NEWS WILL PUBLISH BOOSTER DIRECTORY

A Classified Business Directory and Glendale Booster Book is now being compiled by The Evening News. It is a co-operative work undertaken with the object of providing a convenient reference to the business, professional people and institutions of Glendale.

The first publication will be made in the columns of The Evening News. The entire work will then be issued in book form, classified and alphabetically arranged so that the information can be had at a glance. The Booster Directory books will be given a general FREE distribution. Then a supply will be left at the various information bureaus to be given out FREE.

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce has furnished the Evening News with valuable data in regard to Glendale, its industries and possibilities, which, with other facts relative to points of interest, will be included in the Booster Directory.

A nominal listing charge is made for including your card in this representative work. No personal solicitation will be attempted, but an invitation will be extended by telephone to co-operate with The Evening News in getting out this work. If interested, call Directory Department—Phone Glendale 132, Station 11.

U. S. FARM LOAN BOARD DISCUSSES PROBLEMS

Members Of Commission Hold Meeting With President Coolidge

President Coolidge recently conferred with members of the federal farm loan board on the difficulties today confronting the American farmer. The financial situation as it affects the farmer was gone over thoroughly. Coolidge met the board members in the White House at Washington, D. C. The financial situation of the farmer is bad at present.

Revision of Tariff, Planned at Capital

power of the farmer's products decreased nearly one-third, and the cost of production in labor and supplies has been steadily increasing. Then the tariff act was passed which ruined all foreign markets for American farm surpluses, and the farmer today faces a situation wherein the more he produces, the greater is his financial loss.

"Countries which are unable to pay gold for American goods cannot trade with us in commodities because the tariff wall practically excludes their goods. European nations can trade on an even basis with Canada or Australia or Russia, even, and they do to the loss of our American farmers."

Favors All-Round Slash

"A second effect of the tariff wall was to make the farmer pay wartime peak prices for his farm implements, fertilizers, machinery and other supplies. At the same time, the tariff in no way increased the value of his products. The fact is that values of farm products have decreased in home markets since the tariff was passed."

"There should be a revision downward of the whole tariff act, and this would solve the agricultural problem."

New Management for Merino Tailor Shop

The Merino Tailors, 212 North Brand boulevard, is now being operated under new management, Al Molitor having taken over the business from the former owner, A. Gelmor, 138 South Brand boulevard.

Mr. Molitor has just received delivery of his new fall lines of suitings, which include all the latest and most fashionable designs in the fabrics that are most sought after by discriminating dressers, and his policy of furnishing all wool suits at moderate prices is aiding materially in building up the business.

Ex-Governor Markham Summoned by Death

DOPE WAR NEEDS BANKROLL, CLAIM

Ex-Official Charges Narcotic Association Owes $20,000; Hobson Presides

Glendale people who have contributed to the crusade, waged principally in the prosperous suburbs of Los Angeles, by Richmond Pearson Hobson, "hero of the Merrimac," and widely-known reformer, will be surprised to learn of the latest regarding the International Narcotic Education Crusade.

Monteville Flowers, another former chautauqua orator, who once upon a time ran for congress in this district after tiring of the tent shows, threw the directors' meeting into a furor yesterday when he presented written charges attacking the management of the crusade. Mr. Hobson presided.

The Los Angeles newspapers report that Flowers alleges the association, which he formerly served as general secretary, had collected money in contravention of the state corporation commission's rulings. He said the organization was going into debt at the rate of $2000 a month.

Others brought out that the organization had collected $50,000, had very little money in the treasury, at the present time, and was about $20,000 in debt, including the president's salary, which was said to be $20,000 a year.

amining the woman as to her past life and then went into her statement that she had seen Mrs. Stokes scantily attired in Wallace's apartment.

"I can't place the dates," said the witness. "I can't recall what food I served there when I carried breakfast to her from the tea room where I have worked. I served the meals in the bedroom."

"In the bedroom?" said Untermyer. "You testified yesterday you never took food into the bedroom."

"That was my mistake," returned the woman. "I did carry it into the bedroom."

Later she said she never saw a man in the place—only Mrs. Stokes.

Information given out by the local offices of the Admiral line was to the effect that the steamers Dorothy Alexander and Columbia were standing by the Admiral Sebree.

Tugs sent from San Francisco are expected to reach the Sebree at noon today to tow the ship into this port.

No fear is felt for the safety of the vessel. The sea is unusually calm and, with the exception of a slight haze, the visibility is good.

Steamer Queen Held at Ketchikan

California street to the northern city limits.

Chairman Jones explains that this is the next step in the program of having all of Brand boulevard brought to grade and widened and after the northern section is completed all efforts will be turned to that south of Windsor drive.

Third—A special committee reported that progress is being made on the opening and improving of Burchett street from Brand boulevard to San Fernando road and Grand View avenue. It is simply a matter of financing the work now, according to Mr. Jones.

A representative attendance of two score or more property owners was present at last night's meeting.

Mystic Smilers Meet in New Lodge Home

The meeting held last night by the Glendale chapter of the Mystic Smiles proved to be one of the most enthusiastic meetings since the organization of the lodge. It was the first regular lodge meeting held in the new lodge rooms in the Filmer building on East Broadway, and was presided over by the Grand Mystic Smiler, Charles E. Rich.

At this time it was unanimously voted the chapter would hereafter be known as the Henry Melone chapter of the Mystic Smiles organization, and will be officially known as Chapter A-D.

At the conclusion of the business session, refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

All men between the ages of 18 and 40, desiring to join this order, are cordially invited to do so and file application with Elwood Ingledue, chairman of the membership committee, in the Ingledue building, corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway. Mr. Ingledue may be reached by telephone at Glendale 3344.

Realtors' Caravan at Bakersfield to Dine

cent of the Glendale contingent to get breakfast.

After a cup of hot coffee, not to mention other refreshment in the brisk ozone of the mountains, our gang, half stifled with pancakes, insisted on scaring the springs from Lake Castaic by shouting:

Aah! (Whistle!)
Glendale, rah! Glendale, boom!
Our town now, your town soon!
Howdy, Lebec!

The drive down the Grapevine grade was thrilling, to say the least. It was a good gamble as to whether "Cam" Thom or "Charlie" Guthrie would be first off the road. But when we struck that long, straight stretch of 28 miles—down hill—oh, boy! More than one automobile was in need of oil, we'll say, and E. P. Hayward, who is serving as song leader, lost his breath—inasmuch as he has no hat to lose. Hatless, voiceless; but not hairless, he led the crowd in the Barney Google gurgles, the Glendale song.

Lunch at Bakersfield
When the excitement subsided, we were near Bakersfield where the really good escorts us to the beautiful Stockdale Country club, where we are their luncheon guests.

This afternoon we pull into Fresno, the Bakersfield delegation taking its proper place in the long caravan. We should reach Fresno by 6:30 o'clock tonight, where a banquet is in store, with Dr. Jessie A. Russell, of the Glendale board, scheduled to say a few well-chosen words about Glendale.

Tomorrow morning, the caravan will continue on to Sacramento, adding delegations all along the line. A feature of the trip will be a noon luncheon at Stockton, tendered by the realtors of that city. Before the caravan resumes its northward journey, there will be a short tour of the valley, hitting some of the high spots of the October harvest.

Entertainment Ahead
Sacramento, the main objective of the offensive, should be reached by 5 o'clock tomorrow night, which will allow ample time to furnish ourselves for the grand opening ball given at 9 o'clock Wednesday night in honor of Frazier O. Reed, president of the California Real Estate association, at which it is estimated over 1000 delegates and their ladies will be present.

LONGSHOREMEN STRIKE

of the convention will be the "five-minute contest," in which Peter Hanson will represent Glendale, and the "achievement contest" in which Glendale, Los Angeles, San Diego, Pasadena, Oakland, San Francisco, Stockton, Santa Barbara and several other boards will compete.

Pasadena Seeks Convention
All the way up, Pasadena is making it plainly understood that she is a live 1924 contender for convention honors, in which she is backed by Glendale, Fresno and San Francisco are also out for next year's big plum.

Following is the list of Glendale's delegates: Cameron D. Thom, president of the Glendale Realty board, and Mrs. Thom; Dr. Jessie A. Russell and her son, Harold Russell; Miss Winnifred Traver, secretary of the local board; Mrs. E. L. For, Mrs. Gaskell, Peter Hanson, E. P.

Hayward, Harold J. Blackmore, Walter Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Gilhuly, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Twining, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ingledue, Mr. and Mrs. William MacMullin, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Wernette, and Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Hartranft of Tujunga. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Horn are planning to leave Wednesday morning and meet the local delegation at Sacramento.

Supreme Court Denies Oil Company's Appeal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company has lost in the supreme court of the United States its appeal for a review of a suit brought by the Bartlesville Zinc company and the National Zinc company to force continuance of gas supply at existing rates.

BURBANK NAVIGATOR TELLS OF DARING TRIP

Harry Pigeon, in 30-Foot Boat, Reaches Australia in Hazardous Voyage

Recently a Frenchman created a furore in the American press, on arriving in New York via the Atlantic ocean in a thirty-two-foot yawl. A far more remarkable feat has been accomplished by a Burbank man, Harry Pigeon, a brother of Mrs. J. L. Smith, 477 Tujunga avenue, who is now in Australia, having sailed there in a thirty-foot dory of his own construction, by wind-power alone.

Commander Pigeon is not going to stop at Australia, he writes his sister, but will continue on around the world. "My friend Scripps, who owns the Los Angeles Record," he writes her, "was in the harbor at Queensland, in his great boat. He sent his launch and brought me over."

Battles Storm
Describing one exciting angle of his many thrilling experiences, he says:

"I had entered the Bligh entrance to Torres Straits during the early morning hours of July 3, after a sleepless night. It was a place where one needed the best of weather, and at that time of the year one might expect it, but instead a gale was blowing, with mist and rain."

"I never saw the islands that mark the entrance. I would have had to run right on them to see them. When I did see land I did not know what it was, and all day long on the 3rd I beat around among reefs, sand banks and rocks."

"The day was far gone before I found out what dark hole I had gotten into, and in the gathering gloom of night I began to beat up against the wind and sea to get out of the maze of reefs and sand banks at the north end of the great Warrior reef."

"No sleep again, and through the night I listened for the roar of the breakers above the whistling of the wind through the rigging, all the while wondering what it would be like if the boat went with a smash on a reef, but we did not strike."

When Harry Pigeon returns to Burbank, after completing his voyage around the world in his little craft, he will write a book of his adventures. This book will recall Jack London's "Crucible of the Shark," and should be equally exciting, if not more so, in the opinion of Mrs. Smith.

Missionary From China
Mrs. Eva Grubbs, who for five years was a missionary of the Holiness church in China, has returned and is spending some time in Burbank. She has many interesting experiences to tell.

While good work is being done by the missionaries in China, she reports, the task is almost a hopeless one, due to lack of law and order in the country.

The Chinese woman, according to Mrs. Grubbs, is a virtual slave, with no privileges of modern civilization. She has no property rights and at the death of her husband, if there is no son, she must adopt one.

When a husband wishes to be rid of his wife he merely slaughters her, there being no law to prevent him, she states. This brings Mrs. Grubbs to the subject of death, on which she has some very interesting observations to make.

A person who is sick is greatly feared in China, she states, and is thought to be possessed by evil spirits. To rid a sick person of these spirits, the Chinese pray. Hence comes the worship of death and a practice that has for its basis wishing and praying for sick people to die rather than get well.

Refrigeration Needed During Fall Months

According to health bureaus, the coming of autumn months is regarded by many people as a signal for giving up the use of ice. The fundamental purpose of ice is not merely as a means of preparing pleasant cooling dishes and beverages during the hot summer months, but to prevent food spoilage by keeping it at a constant temperature below 50 degrees. Bacterial action, which is the cause of spoiled food, is due as much to fluctuating temperature as it is to high temperature. Even during the cool fall and winter months, the changes in temperature between sunrise and sunset are sufficient to promote bacterial action.

At no time in California is the temperature below 50 degrees for a period long enough to make the use of ice unnecessary. Yet, aside from this, a well-iced refrigerator is an excellent means of safeguarding health, as it serves as a protection against flying dust and dirt, and countless micro-organisms which float about in the air.

Madrigal Club Has Eight New Members

In beginning rehearsals for the season the Madrigal club meeting yesterday at the First Congregational church, received eight new members. Those who were recommended by the club's voice committee and received yesterday were Mesdames Elliott Hensel, L. K. Markey, E. Young, B. O. Holbrook, V. Schlotzhauer, Burt Cline and Miss Flora Kilpatrick. The club is now holding a membership drive and by the report made yesterday it was shown that Mrs. Helen MacMullin's team is leading.

LA CRESCENTA WATER CO. HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION

Report of Officers Reveals Flourishing Condition of Organization

The annual meeting of the La Crescenta Mutual Water Co. was held last night at the school auditorium.

It was called to order by the president, Dr. Nettleton, who explained the meeting was for the purpose of electing a new board of officers for the coming year. The business of the evening opened with the reading of the published notices of said meeting by Mr. Adkins, secretary.

Answering to the roll call were 284 stockholders in person and 657 proxies, making a total of 941 votes present.

Dr. Nettleton stated with so many subdivisions being put on the market, thereby creating a demand for more water, the treasury was able to report a growth in funds instead of a deficit, as there was in the past. The president stated also, that the La Crescenta Mutual Water Co. now had a clear title to its rights, the litigation in the courts being ended in favor of the local company.

Directors Elected
Mr. Anderson thanked the retiring president and his board for the efficient services rendered in the past and nominated the following gentlemen to serve this year on the board: Messrs. Salisbury, Scully, Brown, Mead and Mills, all of whom were elected without opposition.

Mr. Mills asked for a standing vote to be taken in his case, as he felt there might be an objection to his serving as he is a resident of Glendale. In spite of this fact, however, Mr. Mills was unanimously elected, as stockholders remembered his splendid services rendered the company in the past, when he acted as secretary and treasurer, giving his leisure time, as he had no other time to spare from his duties with the Glendale & Montrose electric line.

Mark Collins' name was proposed but he refused to consider nomination. Mr. Salisbury, at the request of the president, told of the growth of the company, when the first water company here was started in 1912 by Mr. Walton, who subdivided this center.

This concern collapsed with the war, being bonded in 1915 for $150,000.00, but could not pay the interest and taxes which were three years in arrears. Mr. Walton then resigned, his place being taken by Mr. Spencer, the treasurer having the large sum of 75 cents to its credit.

Well Is Abandoned
In December of 1918, the well which resulted in the well in the upper part of the valley being abandoned, as there was but three feet of water. The residents of this district carried their drinking water from the taps of the other water company.

In October, 1918, there were 125 water users as against 625 today. A new pump costing $1,200 was then installed, but accomplished nothing, and the board, with one exception, resigned at this time in a body. Mr. Twining then took the chair, but resigned in a short time. Mr. Wallace taking his place in March, 1919. A new company was formed with $641.76 in their treasury.

In 1919, Mr. Salisbury was made a director of the company. In June, 1920, a new company was formed. They were to tap the overflow of the La Crescenta Water company's well, the contract calling for pipes, etc., to be laid. There was, however, a very meager overflow, and in July, 1920, the organization was turned over to Messrs. Fleming, Parker, Scully, Walton and Salisbury.

Shares were then sold at $25 each, 158 subscribers taking out 678 shares. This money was spent for drilling a new well, pipe lines, etc. In October, 1920, their rights were contested by the Sierra Verdugo company. In October, 1920, Mr. Mead was added to the board and in December, 1920, well No. 2 was started.

The first summer the power bills for pumping were as large as the present bills for pumping 27 feet of water. This well was no good and the directors gave their personal notes for $3000 to save the company. The restraining suit brought in 1918 is now settled, the board having bent all their energies to this end.

Now in Good Shape
The company now has on hand $1100 in notes, its pump house property and is in good financial shape. Dr. Nettleton assured the stockholders there would be no general manager employed by the board until the company could financially stand such a move. The directors have given and will continue to give their services gratis, a small salary being given the secretary.

Dr. Nettleton thanked M. Ryder for his hearty co-operation and services as superintendent, the bank and Mr. Adkins for their services also.

Perhaps the stockholders can better appreciate the services their board of directors have rendered, when it is understood they turned down the suggestion a year ago that they be given free water.

There is now a water supply of from 22 feet to 27 feet and the reserve reservoir holds 16 feet. The La Crescenta Mutual Water company's stock now brings $50 a share on the market as against the $25 a share when the company was organized.

FEDERATION OF MISSIONS MEET

All Day Session Held at Casa Verdugo Church; Interesting Program

The Missionary Federation of Glendale held an all-day session at the Casa Verdugo Methodist church yesterday with the women of Casa Verdugo acting hostesses and practically all of the churches of the city well represented by their most interested workers in both the home and foreign missions.

This federation meets but twice or three times a year, and the new officers elected at the meeting in the spring and presiding at this first meeting were Mrs. Z. L. Hesse, president; Mrs. C. E. Robinson, vice-president; Mrs. R. W. Mottern, secretary; Mrs. Flora King, treasurer. The meeting opened at 10 o'clock with Mrs. G. H. Shulte leading the devotional exercises, and the invocation was by Mrs. Levi Chubbuck.

Mrs. R. D. Jones and Mrs. John W. Cotton sang a duet, "The Lord Is My Shepherd."

Tells of Leprosy Plague
Mrs. W. M. Weller of Los Angeles, who has traveled extensively and visited many of the foreign mission fields was then introduced.

Mrs. Weller is a most fluent speaker and with "Work Among the Lepers at Home and in the Foreign Fields," as her topic, she thrilled her audience with graphic descriptions of conditions in many countries where the plague abounds, especially India and West Africa.

The offering taken at this meeting, and all funds raised by the federation are sent to the leper colony at Carville, La., and it was a surprise to many of Mrs. Weller's listeners to hear that the lepers in this colony in America, now number more than one thousand.

Following the address they were invited to the basement rooms with their basket lunches. Bright red cosmos decorated the long tables, and covers were laid for sixty. Hot coffee and tea was served by a committee of the hostesses.

Afternoon Session
At 1 o'clock the afternoon meeting opened with scripture reading by Mrs. W. G. Collins, who also spoke briefly on the unity of missions.

Mrs. Fred Hagen of Glendale, who was the speaker of the afternoon, her subject being "Side-

The widening of West Broadway from Pacific avenue to San Fernando road will be taken up at a later date.

A riotous medley of humanity will be presented Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, where 300 Glendale children and adults will appear in various guises behind the footlights in "A Night in Dreamland," the musical extravaganza written and directed by Jay Wellington, and produced under the auspices of the Women's Guild of St. Mark's Episcopal church.

There are three parts to the production, the first, "The Children's Dreamland" will feature the kiddies and such song numbers as "Hush, Here Comes the Dream Man." There will be dream girls and nurse maids, and Dreamland kiddies and dancing clowns.

Most colorful in its setting the second part, "A Night in Dreamland" will be the most brilliant part of the pageant. On the splendidly equipped stage of the clubhouse, a beautiful garden will be arranged with Miss Gertrude Wade as hostess. She will receive 100 guests and introduce the various entertainers. One of the scenes of this part will be the "American Beauty Scene."

SPECIALTIES TO ENLIVEN COMEDY

Program of 'Her Honor the Mayor' Enlarged to Include Extra Features

The three-act comedy, "Her Honor the Mayor," that is to be staged tonight at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse by the students of the Emerson School of Expression, 730-732 South Glendale avenue, will be enlivened by the presentation of a number of special numbers between the acts.

Between the first and second acts Miss Bess Long, piano teacher at the Emerson school, will play "Rigoletto," by Verdi-Liszt, and after the second act, Miss Marcia Joy, teacher of dancing at the school, will dance the "Valse Caprice," by Rubinstein.

The Postoffice Employees' band will render several selections before the play starts, and C. K. Aston's orchestra will also play several selections, besides playing the accompaniment for the Suffragette song.

Rehearsals that have been conducted since the plan for the play was first started have brought the cast to a pitch of efficiency that augurs for a successful performance of the comedy, and the demand for seats has been most encouraging.

The fire began in the Downie Brothers' Tent & Awning company and rapidly spread to adjoining structures. The estimated loss is $300,000.

A Sign of Good Health!

The sign that signals the ice man is a sign of good judgment on the housewife's part. It indicates that she has given real thought to the food problem, and that she knows the economy of keeping her refrigerator well filled with ice every month in the year.

Fall weather is changeable. Nights are cool, but days are often warmer than 30 degrees. And whenever perishable food is kept in a warmer temperature than 50 degrees—it is actually spoiling, though it may take time for the spoiling to become noticeable.

Ice costs little, but it adds much to your family's health and enjoyment of pure, wholesome food. Ice will pay for itself in the food it saves.

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—It has been said of the presidency of the United States that no man can enter the portals of the White House, remain there long, and emerge the same man.

The truism of this oft-repeated assertion is now being proved by Calvin Coolidge, the retiring New Englander, suddenly thrust by Fate into a position coveted by so many men.

As governor of Massachusetts and as vice-president of the United States, Calvin Coolidge gained a reputation for silence and reticence that was nationwide. "Silent Cal" he was called and fittingly so, for certain it is that no more reserved man ever came into national prominence. Dinner guests used to shy away from him at the capital's interminable parties because he was difficult to talk to. He usually kept his eyes on his plate and said nothing unless addressed, and then his replies were monosyllabic.

Nearly two months in the White House and Calvin Coolidge is a changed man. He is talking. It is true he has not yet reached the heights of conversational eloquence and loquacity attained by some of his predecessors, but he is in a stage of transition that threatens to dispel forever the aura of silence that has enveloped him for these many years.

In the great circular room where he sees dozens of people daily, Mr. Coolidge has found it impossible to maintain that reticence for which he is famous.

All the problems and questions of forty-eight states pass in and out of his office, and they require explanation, decision, procrastination. Politicians big and small march daily through the green room. They want something. Perhaps they want nothing more than "a word" for the people back home. And they're getting it.

Under the magic spell of the Presidency Calvin Coolidge is beginning to talk. In his clipped, deliberate way he is sending his numerous visitors away from the White House daily satisfied with their "talk" with the President.

It is true his visitors do most of the talking, and he does most of the listening, but that is always true of the Presidency. People come to the White House to tell the President the tales of woe or of joy. It is the biggest part of his job to be a ready listener he has always been, and now he is learning to talk.

Perhaps the growing habit of conversation on the part of the President is more noticeable to the newspaper correspondents who cover the White House than to casual observers.

Questions are submitted twice a week to the President by the correspondents. They cover every conceivable subject, the appointment of a postmaster at Squeedunk, the legislative program for the next Congress, international relations, everything.

Many of them can be answered by a plain "yes" or "no," but it is significant of the change being wrought in Calvin Coolidge that few of them ever are. He explains nowadays where formerly he would only have stated the reply in the fewest possible number of words.

And strangely enough, he seems to enjoy it. A few days ago the President went at length into the agricultural situation, and for fully ten minutes he talked rapidly and clearly of the difficulties besetting the American farmer in his effort to make both ends meet.

The slow change being worked in the President may be the result of the tons of information that pass through his office continually. He gets reports about everything from everybody. If it were possible for a human head to contain all of the statistics and information that daily pass through the hands of a President of the United States, the holder thereof would be about the best informed man in the world.

It may be that all of these newly acquired sources of information are partly responsible for the loosening of the Presidential tongue. It may be the scores of people, great and small, that he is required to meet daily. It may be a natural desire to correct the impression so widely prevalent among the American people that he "can't talk."

In any event the "Silent Cal" thing is rapidly becoming a myth. He is talking more than he ever did in his life.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

GREEK READY FOR REPUBLIC, WRITES VENIZELIS, RETIRING

On the eve of departure from the Lausanne conference for his home near Nice, Venizelos addressed to his compatriots in Greece his valedictory on retirement from public life. By a curious coincidence the farewell address was published in the Athenian papers two days before the tragedy in Epirus, of which some of his phrases seem to have prophetic import.

"If only we manage to keep down our political passions, if each one of us Greeks ceases to be a Medea, if the evils she was going to commit but whose passion was master of her reason, we may look forward to the future with confidence."

In regard to the republican movement in Greece he wrote: "I believe that the late King's personal policy has shaken the very foundations of the royal institution in Greece; nor do I consider the Greek people as still immature for a purely republican regime. Perhaps one might doubt their maturity for carrying on the institution of a 'monarchical democracy,' which constitutes a more complicated regime. For these reasons I find that the creation of a republican party destined gradually to enlighten the people on the real meaning of a pure republic and to constitute an oppositional force, looming in the mind of the existing regime and restraining it from constitutional trespasses, is quite natural."

He then denounced in the strongest terms any idea of enforcing by violence upon the country a republic which would, in the circumstances, mean only the establishment of a disguised dictatorship.

CLEARED OF MURDER CHARGE

Slain Egyptian's French Wife Freed By Jury

Mme. Marie Marguerite Fahmy, who is cleared of charge of having slain her wealthy husband

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Mme. Marie Marguerite Fahmy is trying to forget. It is all like a nightmare to her now.

That death-chilling oath on the Koran. The struggle. The killing. The agonizing suspense. Women have been executed in England for murder.

But Madame was beautiful, French and temperamental and the British jury without much ado acquitted her of the charge of murdering her young husband, Ali Kemal Fahmy Bey, a descendant of the pharaohs.

Now the past is but a dream. Once more a free woman, Mme. Fahmy is trying to forget the sorrows of her past.

Madame succumbed to the ardent wooing of the hot-blooded young Egyptian and they were married in Cairo. But almost immediately she recognized that east was east and west west, and storms continually hovered over the horizon of her married life.

There were quarrels, angry words and mistreatment, and once in a fit of rage her swarthy husband laid his hand on the Koran and swore to kill her with his own hand.

Some days later attendants in the Savoy hotel here found his body in the Fahmy suite after the beautiful French girl had fled—screaming down the corridor.

He was dead. A bullet wound and a pistol told a mute story. Madame was arrested. Charged with murder. Tried. With her life at stake she told how she tried to scare him when he attempted to beat her. She grabbed the pistol and in the struggle accidentally shot her husband.

The jury said "not guilty."

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY'S ELECTRIC BELL

"Some one is at the door, Nurse Jane!" called Uncle Wiggily, soon after he reached his hollow stump bungalow, coming home from an adventure trip one day. "There goes the electric bell."

But the muskrat lady housekeeper sat still in her chair, knitting a buttonhole on one of Uncle Wiggily's socks. "Aren't you going to the door?" asked the rabbit gentleman, as the electric bell rang still more loudly. "Aren't you going, Nurse Jane?"

"There is no use," answered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, as she sewed together two of Uncle Wiggily's old neckties to make a pair of shoe laces for the rag doll. "Why not?" asked Mr. Longears. "Why don't you go to the door when the bell rings? That is, unless you're afraid and want me to go?" he asked, more boldly. "If you do—"

"Oh, not at all!" laughed Nurse Jane. "The fact of the matter is, Uncle Wiggily, that there isn't anyone at the door."

"But I hear the bell ringing!" said the bunny gentleman. "Listen to it—tinkle, tinkle, tink!"

"Yes, I heard it," said Nurse Jane with a smile. "But it has been ringing like that all day, and whenever I go to the door no one is there. So I'm tired of going."

"If the bell rings, and there is no one there, it must be some of the animal boys playing tricks," declared Uncle Wiggily. "I'll catch the little rascals!" and he started for the door, while the electric bell still rang.

"Don't trouble yourself," laughed the muskrat lady housekeeper. "I also thought it was some of the boys, but when I slipped quietly to the door and looked out, no one was there, but the bell still rang. It must be an invisible fairy."

"Nonsense!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "It's just something the matter with the bell—that's all. I'll fix it."

So the bunny rabbit gentleman looked at the push button on the front door. To make the electric bell ring this button must be pushed. And when Uncle Wiggily put on his glasses and looked at the front door button, he saw what the trouble was.

"Someone," he said, "and it must have been one of the animal boys, has stuck a pin in the push button. This is just the same as if they stood there all the while and pushed on the button. No wonder the bell rang all the while, with the pin in the push button! I'll take it out."

Now, while Uncle Wiggily went back in his hollow stump bungalow to get his hammer, saw, screw driver and pliers with which to charge and Rev. M. K. Stone has been sent to Casa Verdugo to take the place of Rev. C. R. Norton, retired. Rev. S. W. Carnes has been returned to Tropico.

East Broadway, Glendale, is a busy street at present. It is safe to say that there are more than 100 men at work between Glendale avenue and Brand boulevard. Besides the Barber paving crew, there are many men at work on the new fire house which is being completed by T. H. Addison, contractor, and on the new store building being completed for the Glendale Hardware Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Moore of 1468 West Second street will spend the week-end in Redlands.

"I'll push the button first!" said the Bob Cat.

Zowie ears and jitney lollypops!" howled the Bob Cat. Then he fell over backward in a somersault down the steps, knocking the Bob Cat head over heels, and away they ran.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily as he came out to pull the pin from the push button. "The boys' trick saved me from the bad snaps! Ha! Ha!" Then he pulled the pin from the button and the bell stopped ringing, and all was well.

And, if the rubber ball doesn't bounce up to look in the face of the clock and shake the hands, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the red paint.

THEATRES

THE GLENDAL

"The Eternal Struggle" is proving by its popularity at the Glendale Theatre that the fortune expended upon it by Reginald Barker and Louis B. Meyer in lavish sets was a box-office investment.

A splendid story was also secured in the making of this mammoth outdoor drama of the Canadian northwest, none other than the famous G. B. Lancaster novel, "The Law-Bringers."

Adaptation was by J. G. Hawks, former Goldwyn editor-in-chief, and Monte M. Katterjohn, author of that undying western, "The Spell of the Yukon."

The production is distributed by Metro. Its notable cast includes Earle Williams, for many years a star; Renee Adoree, than whom there is none more adorable; Wallace Beery, that capable actor of many roles; and dainty Barbara La Marr, in the role of Camille Lenoir.

"And don't forget that today is Special Students' Matinee," says Manager William A. Howe.

THE GATEWAY

"Ruggles of Red Gap" shows for the last times today at the Gateway Theatre. The story, as a couple of million readers know, ran in the Saturday Evening Post as a Harry Leon Wilson serial.

It has reached the films through the directorial genius of James Cruze, who made "The Covered Wagon," one of the most successful films of the year. That alone spells assurance of the fine entertainment quality it possesses.

"Ruggles of Red Gap" is a western comedy—but what a difference! When Harry Leon Wilson gets hold of a funny idea, he develops it with the sure touch of a real literary artist. Remember "Bunker Bean"? That was by Wilson. "Ruggles" is equally amusing.

In the capable cast are Edward Horton, Ernest Torrence, Lois Wilson, Fritz Ridgway and that popular Glendalian, Louise Dresser.

"Good Retail Stores Are An Asset to Any Community"

In a recent number of the Saturday Evening Post, J. R. Sprague writes, "Manifestly good retail stores are an asset to any community." He tells how a large middle-western manufacturing concern determined to establish a branch in Texas. The vice-president investigated a number of places and the choice finally narrowed down to two towns. They seemed to offer equal advantages from a manufacturing and distributing standpoint and the Chambers of Commerce of both cities were active in their efforts to secure the plant which would add several hundred well-paid workers to the population. While walking down the main street of one of these towns with his wife he asked her where she would rather live. She answered, "I believe I would rather live here. I have done a little shopping in both places, and on the whole these stores are a little more up-to-date than the stores in the other town." The scale was tipped in favor of the town that had the best-looking stores.

The retail stores are more often than not the deciding factor when a family considers locating in a new town. How important, then, for a city with the ambition to grow, to have fine stores.

And who is to maintain these stores? It is entirely a matter of local patronage. Fine buildings, luxurious furnishings, large and varied stocks of merchandise, unusual service and reasonable prices attract the outsider but merchants cannot maintain such establishments without business. The matter resolves itself into a question of Community Pride. It takes wide-awake merchants, it is true, to put up the front necessary to Community Growth, but they can't do it without the help of the people.

The advertisers on this page know they must have the support of the people of Glendale in their campaign for a Greater Glendale and through these columns they are appealing to your Community Loyalty and Pride.

CARDS OUTPOINT NEVADA PLAYERS

Stanford Opens Season With Slashing Victory in Saturday Contest

ART SMITHS
The Evening News
Oct. 9.—While the Bears continued to pile up a huge point total by humbling the Santa Clara College to the tune of 48 to 0, the Stanford eleven opened its season impressively by taking the fast Nevada team into camp by a score of 27 to 0. Both of the games Saturday drew large crowds, but interest centered in the affair between the Cards and the Sageshens, because it was the first game of the season for Andy Kerr's men and the fans were out to see what he had to offer.

They were in no way disappointed, for the Stanford Varsity came through with the goods as was predicted and decisively squelched the ambitious Nevada pigskinners. The feature of the game was a thirty-five-yard pass, Cleveland to Campbell. The cards scored twice on blocked kicks and took full advantage of showing their ability to follow the ball.

Line Looks Good
Although play was somewhat ragged at periods of the game, the line as a whole showed up well and gave the impression that it would be a whole lot better before the end of the season. Jim Lawson came through with some brilliant playing at the end, which upheld the contention that he is one of the best wing men on the Pacific coast. His appearance on the field Saturday was a surprise to the followers of the game as he had some trouble with an English course last year and it was thought that he would be ineligible. He took a test last Wednesday and, by passing it, made himself eligible for the rest of the year.

With a healthy victory for a starter, Jim Lawson back in the game, and Cuddock applying for re-admission, optimism floods the Stanford campus and the boys are already talking about a conference championship. Although the Cards look good, they are a long way from the realization of such ambitions and will have to first contend with one of the best teams California ever turned out. The Bruins gave no signs of letting down last Saturday in the brand of football they have been playing, and had little difficulty in tearing through the Santa Clara grid squad time after time for touchdowns. Andy Smith worked ten different men in the backfield at various stages of the game, and one of them looked good enough for the first team. Carlson being out with a broken ankle, Tut Inlay started the game at quarter and was not satisfied with simply handling the team like a veteran, but also had to provide the fans some thrills with his open field running.

Seven-Yard Dash
Nichols says, "The Stanford boys fully expect to do some scoring this year, with Campbell, Nevers, Murray and Cleaveland in the backfield, and, although Gloomy Gus Henderson seems to it that pessimism in reports conspire to seep through from the south, no one is underestimating the ability of Southern California."

Wonder About Pasadena
The Tournament of Roses committee, since announcing that the Annapolis football team had been signed to play in Pasadena New Year's day has not approached the Pacific Coast Conference with any proposition and interest runs high as to what the next move will be. The conference has gone on record as being opposed to post-season games and the officials have committed themselves no further

As it looks to a man up a tree, Miller Huggins will depend upon Sam Jones, Bob Shawkey, Herb Pennock and Waite Hoyt to turn back the Giant drive in the coming world's series. Hoyt hasn't had a big year, but he was the most effective man Huggins had against the Giants in the last clash. Pennock and Jones have been pitching great ball. If any hurlers in the American league can turn back the National leaguers these two birds should do it. Shawkey, when right, is a hard man to beat. The main trouble is, however, that against McGraw's strategy and the Giant bats, the Yankee hurlers have been helpless in two clashes after pitching high-grade ball each season.

This is a heavy blow to the Bruin squad, for Carlson is the most promising candidate for the quarterback job, and Andy Smith has no over abundance of material for that position. The injury is serious, for the bone is badly shattered and it is doubtful if trainer Charley Volz can get him back in the game inside of a month. With the loss of that much practice with his teammates it will be next to impossible for him to get back into the running before the U. S. C. game.

Smith has three other men who have been working out at quarter regularly and any one of them may develop into a good signal barker, but it was Carlson who was developing the quality of field generalship that the Bruin mentor demands in the man who directs the attack of the California eleven.

Evans Also Out
Hoggy Evans, first string end on the varsity squad, will also be out of the game for a week on account of a badly wrenched elbow. His injury is not serious, however, and he will be back in the lineup within a short time.

Evans, who, by the way, hails from Long Beach, has developed into a fast, hard-hitting wing man in the last two weeks, and has solved for Andy one of his big problems. With Hufford handling the other end position the California line will present a solid wall which will be hard to penetrate.

Another southern California boy who is attracting attention is Babe Horrell from Pasadena. He is playing a fine game at center and by the end of the season will be an outstanding star.

After Two Leaders
It is necessary for Andy Smith to point his team toward two separate contests this year. These are the U. S. C. game on November 10 and the final game of the season with Stanford on the 24th. In between those dates the Bears have to play Washington and it is a question whether they can be kept in trim for these such grueling contests in quick succession. Captain Don Nichols says, "The U. S. C. game will probably be our hardest contest. We will be trained toward that game and should reach the peak of our form by the time it arrives. The worst of it is that we need to be constantly at the peak in order to down the other strong teams we will meet."

California realizes that she is going to have more competition in the conference this year than ever before, and is shying at over confidence. The Stanford boys this year, with Campbell, Nevers, Murray and Cleaveland in the backfield, and, although Gloomy Gus Henderson seems to it that pessimism in reports conspire to seep through from the south, no one is underestimating the ability of Southern California."

With the little opposition that Santa Clara had to offer, every man on the Bear eleven looked like a star, and it will be difficult to judge the true worth of the California squad until they meet the Olympic club next Saturday. The line took its first whack at the California football squad last week when Scoop Carlson was put out of the game for an indefinite period with a broken ankle.

YANKS FAVORED BY 11 TO 10 ODDS

Little Money in Sight, Say Latest Reports From New York Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Odds on the world's series continued to favor the Yankees today, 11 to 10 being the general price quoted with little Yankee money in sight. Darnell and company reported placing $5,000 on the Giants at odds of 6 to 5, taking the short end, and a bet of $3,000 against $3,300 that the Giants will win the first game.

J. S. Fried and company is authority for the statement it has placed $11,000 to $10,000 on the Yankees.

Speculators Asking Three Prices for Tickets

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Speculators today were offering reserved tickets for the world series at prices ranging from twice to three times their box office value. Speculators apparently had many tickets. The demand has not been brisk to date, but the scalpers anticipate a last minute rush. All reserved seats for the Yankees' games have been sold, but some 35,000 unreserved seats will be placed on sale at the grounds each day, it was announced. The Giants still have some reserved tickets on their hands, but the supply had dwindled rapidly today.

Two Injured Players Kept Out of Lineups

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—From present indications, all the injured players, with the exception of Mike McNalley and Ralph Shinnars, substitutes of the Yankees and Giants, respectively, will be in condition to play in the world's series, starting tomorrow. Wally Pipp will try out his injured ankle again today and determine whether he will start at first base for the Yankees. If he does not, Babe Ruth will play the bag with Harvey Hendrick, a recruit, in left field. The injured arms of Jack Scott and Hugh McQuillan, Giant pitchers, are said to be rounding into form, while Rosa Young, right-fielder, has recovered from a recent illness.

Carlocks Win Three From Psenner Bros.

The first games of the 1923-24 bowling season were played last night at the Recreation Center between the Carlock and Psenner brothers' teams in the Footbath league, resulting in the Carlock team taking three games in a row from their opponents. The score:

CARLOCKS
Players—	1	2
Morgan	156	150
Anstey	137	164
Nelson	169	154
Clarin	187	188
Neise	213	209
Totals	853	864
PSENNER BROS.
Players—	2	3

Fortunato	177	143
Huseman	194	160
Hammes	194	180

Totals	816	809

than to say that any proposal by the Tournament of Roses committee would be treated with the greatest consideration. California will abide by whatever ruling the conference officials see fit to pass, but is anxious to again take part in the inter-sectional classic.

The Short Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Although neither manager will commit himself, it is understood that McGraw will send Art Nehf out for a left-handed inaugural of the world's series tomorrow, and that Huggins will counter with Waite Hoyt. These pitchers are almost the unanimous choice of the players of their respective teams and, while McGraw and Huggins are not given to reaching their decisions via the general intelligence of the dugout, they are believed to have concurred in this instance.

Sam Held in Reserve
It was Huggins' original intention to use Sam Jones in the opening game, but he has thought better of it. Jones is a very smart curve ball pitcher, but he cannot come back like Hoyt, and it is a law of the series that the opening pitcher must be prepared to return for more not later than the fourth day.

In the 1921 series, Hoyt pitched twenty-seven innings against the Giants without allowing an earned run. He is a certain start tomorrow, in the writer's opinion.

Nehf is not a great repeater, largely because of his snappy delivery, which places an undue strain on his arm. Yet Nehf is almost certain to be McGraw's man, because Scott and McQuillan have slightly sore arms, and confidence is not altogether established in the ability of Bentley and Ryan.

With Hoyt out of the way, Huggins probably will nominate Jones and Pennock for third and seventh, if played, with Shawkey, Bush and Jones ready to pitch the fifth and sixth game.

Story Worth Just So Much
McGraw may decide at any moment to use Jack Bentley, possibly in the second, with Scott pitching the third, McQuillan the fourth, Nehf the fifth and so on. By the same token, he may open the series with Scott and follow with McQuillan, leaving Nehf with only one game on his capable arm. At any rate, the sore arm story can be accepted or rejected for exactly what it is worth.

The outcome of the entire series hinges on the result of the opening game as matters stand. If the Yankees lose they may bring themselves to believe that it is only a repetition of the 1921 and 1922 games and take the rest

Glendale Elevens Go Into Grid Series Today

The city league is invaded by two of Glendale's teams today with the varsity meeting the strong Hollywood eleven and the 130-pounders battling with the Franklinites. Both games are being played on foreign fields.

The heavyweight team looks exceedingly promising this year. When they defeated the Kitefliers team last Friday, they did what no other team has done for two years. They mopped up Oxnard, 46 to 0, and the touted Santa Barbara team only beat the Bear City team 28 to 0. So, the dope easily places Glendale as a strong contender for all championship honors.

The class B aggregation also bids fair to uphold its previous record of league championships. Although the Lincoln midgets defeated them, 7 to 6, Coach Butterfield confidently expects them to make an excellent showing. Horri and Bud Elliott may be taken off the varsity team and put on the lightweights in critical games.

Discovery of America cost $7250, say recent investigators.

of the series sitting down. If they win, they will be very hard to stop through the remaining games.

Will Drop Probe of Boston Ball Players

BOSTON, Oct. 9.—District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien has decided to drop charges petitioned by about 200 Boston business men asking for an investigation into an alleged baseball manipulation by players of the Boston Red Sox and Boston Braves to assure the New York teams of winning the National and American league pennants.

FIGHT RESULTS

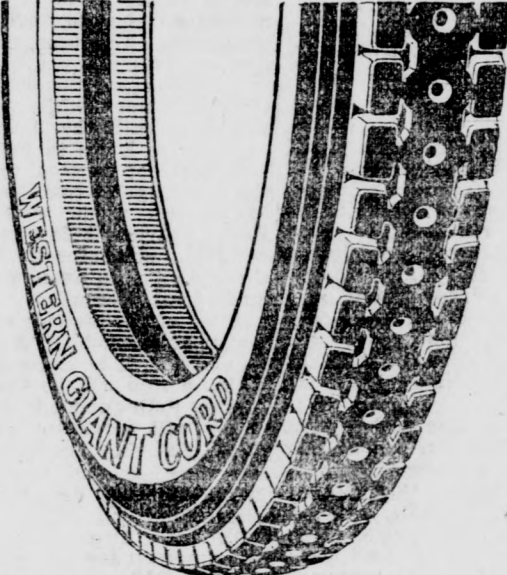

At Newark—Mickey Walker-Jimmy Jones fight stopped in ninth, referee declaring no contest.

At Rochester—Sid Barbarian, Detroit, outpointed Teddy Meyers, Buffalo, 12 rounds.

At Boston—Battling McCreary, negro lightweight, defeated Glem Johnson of New York in 10 rounds; Lew Paluso of Salt Lake City won from Mickey Travers of New Haven in 10 rounds; Benny Valgaer, New York, won over Joe Curry of New Haven in 10 rounds.

Lights on Japan," brought to the attention of her hearers some very interesting points regarding the character of the Orientals as she knew them many years ago and also the changes taking place today. Mrs. Hagen's many years' residence in Japan have given her an understanding of the Oriental in his native environment that has been an asset in her work in the mission field.

Brief reports on the out-standing meetings of the year in the mission work, were given by the following representatives. First Presbyterian church, Mrs. T. A.
Lewis; First Baptist, Mrs. C. E.
Robinson; First Methodist, Mrs.
B. F. Geiger, Mrs. W. G. Collins;
Tropico Presbyterian, Mrs. H. B.
Goldsborough; Central avenue,
Mrs. W. E. Hewitt; West Glendale, Mrs. Lewis; Casa Verdugo Methodist, Mrs. R. D. Jones; First Christian, Mrs. Logan.

A beautiful soprano solo, "Call-est Thou Me" sung by Mrs. W. E.
Mercer, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. M. G. Musser, and a short prayer by Mrs. E. E. Ford, closed the program of a most interesting day.

COMMENT That's All

When Sport Is King
Ford's Economic Philosophy
Costs Money To Live!
You Can't Have Everything
By Gil A. Cowan

Sport is king! The Glendale gridiron warriors go into action today in the Central league; the world series baseball games start tomorrow; the season is at hand when almost every fan has something to talk about.

Even the tennis and golf title matches of recent weeks have given new joy to the followers of these games, and the track stars here in Southern California are to be seen cavorting around occasionally.

Indeed, it is almost humanly impossible for one mind to concentrate on all of the sporting events and appreciate the full value of all. We know that with writers a versatile sports editor, such as Davis J. Walsh of International News Service, commands an enormous salary, as compared with the average newspaperman,
or executive, for that matter.

Incidentally, Mr. Walsh will be assisted in covering the world series games at New York this week and next by no less noted humorist than John P. Medbury.
He is the creator of the "Mutter and Munie" column, a laugh in every line, which will amuse the fans while Mr. Walsh tells the story.

Sid Mercer will be there, too, while a whole galaxy of stars will be aiding in keeping the best and latest sporting news on the baseball wall with their own direct from the Polo grounds to the coast newspapers, including The Glendale Evening News office.

It is a pleasure to be served on such occasions by The International News Service, which loses
no time by relays and "pony" circuits. The Glendale Evening News is placed in the "big league" class by this superior leased wire attraction.

The business philosophy of Henry Ford is well expressed in a copyright story from Detroit yesterday dispatched by International News Service, which said:

"The Ford interests are closing in on all bases of supply and, according to Mr. Ford, it will be a question of but a short time when everything that goes into the building of the Ford car will be owned or controlled by the Ford Motor company.

"We are very close to that point right now," said Mr. Ford. "By controlling every process of manufacture that goes into the ultimate product we will be able to make a machine at a lower price. False profits will be eliminated all along the line, and when they cease to exist the buying public will have full value for its money.

"This is what manufacturers—not only of automobiles, but in all lines are going to be compelled to do. Business, not only the automobile business, is coming to big business, and the only way in which big business can exist, is to control everything that enters into its ultimate product."

"It Costs Money to Live," says the Santa Ana Register editor in the following effusion:

"The ice man collects a million dollars a day from the American people. And about the same amount is spent for furs. We also spend a million dollars a week for gum. These figures are revealed by recent analysis of sums collected for taxes.

"But the figures are amazingly small, rather than startlingly large, when you consider that they represent the buying of at least 106,000,000 Americans.

"If you are interested in statistics, and would like to drive home this point, figure out the average daily expenditure that you make.
Include your clothing, your food,
your amusements, your gasoline and all of the other things that you buy. Multiply this sum by 106,000,000 and you will find a startling total.

"None of us fully realize the enormous buying power of the American people. Just for ordinary living expenses, not counting luxuries, extravagances and amusements, the expenditures make a formidable total. It's so big it's a wonder we ever have hard times."

And "You Can't Have Everything," we add, clipping another comment from the San Francisco Journal:

"Emerson has said: 'God strikes a bargain with all. There is an absolute balance of give and take. Everything has its price, and if that price is not paid, not that thing, but something else is obtained.' In other words, you can't have everything.

"The gaunt, rocky farms of New England produced a sturdy, thrifty, hardy race of men, whose influence is felt even to this day throughout our country. The soft air of the tropics produces food without much labor, but there is no strong, virile race there. Nature hates monopolies. You can't have everything.

"Take life as another example.
The average person thinks that power and privilege are mighty fine things. But the king or president pays dearly for his position.
"But some one will say 'The rich have everything.' Not so.
Even they pay the price of riches.
The coin is responsibility, care,
and, from others, suspicion and envy."

"You can't have everything, but you can have a choice of things.
Real wisdom makes that choice willingly; to strike, if possible, a happy medium in the great scales of compensation, to live in the balanced life. For you can't have everything."

EAGLE ROCK

DAHLIA CULTURE ONLY BEGINNING

Growers Enthusiastic Over Success Achieved at Recent Exhibit

Eagle Rock dahlia growers have good reason for pride in the splendid showing made at their second annual Dahlia Show, held October 4, states J. J. Broomall, in a resume of the important event in local history.

"Development of the dahlia
here in Eagle Rock has been rapid and satisfying," he says. "It may interest local residents that dahlias originated in this community have won first prize this year at Sacramento, at Los Angeles and other places where exhibits were held. H. P. Whitmarsh writes from the Philippines that he has imported 150 varieties from all over the world and that California dahlias have turned out the best, while Eagle Rock dahlias pleased him most of all.

"The development of dahlias,
moreover, as any flower culturist,
affords an opportunity to study
nature and her wondrous ways.
Nothing is more worth while than that."

Speaking of the possibilities of the dahlia having reached the limit of development, Mr. Broom-all decries the idea, stating that with twenty-five years of experience in the culture behind him, he is satisfied the development has only begun.

"The perfect flower is a long ways off," he says. We have dahlias today that a few years ago would easily have been judged marvelous, that now are only commonplace. Likewise, in the future we will produce blooms that will far surpass the present stage of development, while new species will constantly be developed."

Fire Laws in Effect

A trail of notices was left by the Los Angeles fire inspector following his recent visit to Eagle Rock, three being received by residents on Colorado boulevard, three on Castle avenue and seven on Central avenue.

Most of the notices ordered removal of rubbish. Five days will be allowed, it is understood, after which a fine will be the result of non-compliance in the matter.

This will serve to remind residents that they are now a part of Los Angeles and subject to its laws. Anyone desiring to make alterations on their property, within the fire zone, must take out a permit for the work, if such exceeds $20, including time and material. The limit of $75 applies only to the residence district.

SLASH TAX RATE IN 36 COUNTIES

Example of State Campaign for Economy Reflected in Big Savings

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 8.—The effect of the state economy campaign has had its effect in causing supervisors to fix lower county rates, as evidenced by the fact that thirty-six counties have reduced or stopped further increase and others have made only slight increases. Governor Richardson today said:

"The economy campaign is having a far reaching effect. The example set by the state in saving has been reflected in the counties.
The following counties have reduced their tax rates: Los Angeles, Alameda, Sacramento, San Bernardino, Tulare, Stanislaus,
Kings, Sonoma, Glenn, Butte,
Contra Costa, Sutter, Placer, Ma-

dera, El Dorado, Calaveras, Lake, Del Norte, Amador, Inyo and Fresno. These, it will be noted, are among the largest in the state.

The fifteen counties where increased taxation has been checked: San Francisco, Santa Clara, Yuba, Merced, Solano, Orange, Mendocino and eight others. In the counties where there have been increases the amount has been small.

"While, of course, the state, has no control whatever over county tax rates, still the effect of the economy campaign made during the past two years has resulted in stopping the orgy of extravagance, and has been felt throughout the state in the various smaller political subdivisions.

"I propose to keep up the fight to protect the taxpayers regardless of the opposition of legislative squanderers, reactionary spendthrifts, the old discredited political machine, and the tax eaters whose jobs have been abolished.

"In the final analysis the people pay every cent of taxation and the silly sophists who hold otherwise have lost their power to fool the people."

Bulgaria Asks Return of Communist Rebels

SOFIA, Oct. 9.—The Bulgarian government has sent a communication to Belgrade seeking extradition of 700 communists who fled into Jugoslavia when the red counter-revolution collapsed.

Volunteers who joined the regulars in putting down the rebels were given a great sense of welcome when they returned to Sofia today. The streets were filled with peasants and the buildings laden with flags.

The arrested leaders of the revolutionary movement will soon be placed on trial.
